

PUBLICATION RECOMMENDATIONS

ACCEPT Submission - The manuscript has been reviewed and the journal reviewers have determined that the article meets the necessary criteria for publication in the journal.

REVISIONS Required - The manuscript has been reviewed, but it needs minor revisions or changes before it can be accepted for publication. Suggested revisions from reviewer feedback indicate aspects of the manuscript that need improvement or clarification. There will be NOT be another round of reviews.

RESUBMIT for review - The manuscript has been reviewed however, the reviewers have requested significant revisions or changes before it can be considered for publication. Instead of outright rejecting the manuscript, the journal allows the authors to revise and resubmit the manuscript for another round of review.

Resubmit Elsewhere- The manuscript has been reviewed and it's been determined to not meet the scope, aims, and audience of the journal.

Decline Submission - The manuscript has been reviewed and has been declined for publication.